Education Aid Grants Urged By Stevenson

Demo Nominee Says
GOP Has Neglected
School Assistance

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson called tonight for a federal aid-to-education program to help provide 50,000 teachers and 100,000 classrooms each year, plus a college education for all "able students."

The Democratic presidential nominee accused the Eisenhower administration of having "utterly failed to develop a comprehensive policy for education."

He said the administration had demonstrated a lack of "strong leadership in the cause of our most valuable resource—our children."

Stevenson said his program envisages spending of from 500 million to one billion dollars more each year for the next 10 years.

He said local communities are having a tough time finding money to pay for schools so future financing will have to come largely from federal sources "through federal taxes, primarily the income tax."

Cabinet Status Agency
He proposed that the U.S. Office of Education might be given cabinet status. He said it now is "a stepchild of our government."

Stevenson said federal aid to schools should be general. He suggested federal grants on a matching basis, possibly following the equalization principle. Under this system, the federal government would provide enough money to communities to make sure that each of them maintains at least a standard level of education, no matter how poor they were.

"It must be recognized that this program will be costly," Stevenson said. He added:

"When we neglect education, we weaken the whole foundation of free society. And when we neglect education in an age of global conflict, we risk the very safety of our nation and the future of freedom in the world."

Integration Issue Noted
Not until the end of his statement did Stevenson mention the controversy over racial integration in schools. He said:

"Education is one means by which the individual can realize his own highest capacity. It is essential, therefore, that education be available equally to all, without distinction or discrimination based on race or creed or color or economic condition."

In a statement issued shortly afterwards, Marion B. Folsom, Eisenhower's secretary of health, education and welfare, said Eisenhower "has given more vigorous national leadership to the cause of education than any American president."

Stevenson outlined his proposals in a lengthy statement which he described as "the passport to a better society" through "better education—for one and all."

It was an elaboration of the program Stevenson sketched in a political speech at Milwaukee last Friday. He called it another "major affirmation" of what he stands for.

The statement was issued as Stevenson conferred with top strategists on the eve of his departure for two weeks of campaigning in the Northeast and Far West. He has just returned from a 7,500-mile barnstorming tour in the Midwest, the border states and the deep South.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Oct. 1 (AP)—An explosion, followed by fire, early today did an estimated $15,000 worth of damage to the home of singer Eddie Fisher and his wife, actress Debbie Reynolds.

Racial Issues Head Supreme Court's Docket

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Supreme Court today began a session that may go far in determining the country's future course in the field of civil rights.

The nine-man court in the weeks and months ahead will tackle a heavy docket of cases studied with problems of racial integration in public schools. It will also consider applications of the Smith Act, the government's primary weapon against the Communist party.

The opening session was, by tradition, held to brief formalities. Next Monday the court will begin hearing arguments on the renewed attacks against the Smith Act. The court will determine later this month what action, if any, it will take in the school segregation cases.

26-Minute Session
The court's 166th year opened at noon when Chief Justice Earl Warren led his eight black-robed colleagues into the high-ceilinged, marble-columned chamber.

The 26-minute session ended with the admission of 83 attorneys to practice before the court.

For Associate Justice Sherman Minton, this week and next will be his last on the high bench. Minton, 65, is retiring Oct. 15 because of ill health.

President Eisenhower Saturday named William J. Brennan Jr., of New Jersey to succeed him. Brennan's appointment is subject to approval of the Senate.

Appeals From D. C. Cases
Probably no other matter on the court's docket will receive the attention certain to be given the court's actions in school segregation cases.

During the summer recess three appeals were filed from District Court cases stemming from the high court's order last year to end enforced segregation in public schools "with all deliberate speed."

Many more cases on the same issue are expected during the present nine-month term.

Adlai Apologizes For TV Quiz Show Interruption

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson, who tangled with a TV quiz show last week, apologized today.

Result: A promise of two votes, and "free time" for his apology on this week's show.

Possible result: A demand from the Republicans for equal free time.

The incident started last Tuesday night when CBS scheduled one of Stevenson's filmed, paid, five-minute "spot" telecasts at the end of time normally allotted to the "Name That Tune" show.

On the show were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Keil of Herington, Kan. They had been married the previous week. Mrs. Keil and her partner, Emil Haardt of New York, had won $20,000 by naming tunes and the TV viewers were seeing films of the Keil wedding when Stevenson's broadcast interrupted.

Viewers protested the interruption. Today master of ceremonies

Britain Won't Rule Out Force

LONDON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Suez Canal Users Assn., was set up today amid reports of Western Big Three disagreement on whether Egypt may be either persuaded or forced to accept international control.

Fifteen of the 18 nations invited to London joined SCUA at once. Japan, Pakistan and Ethiopia remained on the fence.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain once more refused to rule out force as a final solution. Lloyd told newsmen just before leaving by plane for New York and the U.N. Security Council debate on Suez:

"We dislike the use of force, but we intend to stand by our rights and the rights of other nations."

Lloyd said he was confident the U.N. "will see the justice of our case."

United Front Sought

Lloyd and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau of France will meet with Secretary of State Dulles ahead of the U.N. debate in an effort to present a united front before the Security Council.

The United States, Britain and France sponsored the formation of SCUA as a stopgap group to press Egypt peacefully to give up sole control of the waterway.

The U.N. Security Council is due to debate the crisis on Friday. Informed diplomats here say the United States favors a softer, more flexible approach to Egypt than Britain and France.

The Americans reportedly would like to get Egypt into talks. The British and French would like to chart courses that would compel the regime of President Nasser to come to acceptable terms.

Differ On Tactics, Methods

British and French officials emphasized that Dulles has given them no reason to doubt that the United States wants anything less than they do—a settlement based on some form of international control of Suez.

But differences have come up relating to tactics and methods.

While Britain and France are the prime movers of the case for presentation to the Security Council, the United States has cautioned against a resolution condemning the Nasser regime that would tend to alienate Asian opinion and give an opening to Russians to cash in with a certain veto.

The 15 members are Australia, Denmark, France, West Germany, Italy, Iran, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Portugal, Turkey, Spain, Sweden, the United States and Britain.

He'll Have Chance To Repay Estes

KEENE, N.H., Oct. 1 (AP)—Harry M. Blood, 76, of Paradise, Calif., will have a chance to repay an old friend on election day Nov. 6. Blood, father of Keene YMCA Secretary Roger H. Blood said he was traveling along a lone-some stretch of road in Tennessee 15 years ago when he noticed he was out of gas.

Unfamiliar with the territory, he flagged a passing car.

A lanky Tennessee stopped, went out of his way to obtain gas for Blood and refused payment.

"Just vote for me," he said. Blood, now visiting his son here, said he never forgot the name—Estes Kefauver.

Nixon Admits Calling Truman Party 'Traitor'

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 1 (AP)—Vice President Nixon reiterated here tonight he had never accused Adlai Stevenson or former President Harry S. Truman of being "traitors," in the general meaning of the word.

But he admitted that he did say that "Mr. Truman and others like him were traitors" to the principles of the Democratic party.

Nixon made the statements in a televised panel program, "Milwaukee Reports," over station WXIX-TV. It was on this same program that Truman recently accused Nixon of having charged him, during a 1954 campaign speech in Texarkana, with being a traitor.

McCarthy Hears Nixon

What he said at Texarkana, Nixon said, was Truman and "others, like him showed lack of judgment as distinguished from lack of loyalty."

The word "traitor" was used, only in referring to departure from Democratic party principles.

After the TV appearance, Nixon made what was billed as a non-political talk at Marquette University's Brooks Memorial Union, where he got the biggest reception of the eight-hour tour of Milwaukee. More than 1,000 students swarmed in the streets and jammed the union's auditorium. Also present were Sen. and Mrs. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Baseball Situation Noted

Nixon's arrival and initial 12-mile tour of the city attracted something less than thronging attention from a city disconsolate over another matter entirely—failure of its Braves to win the National League baseball pennant.

The Vice President took note of the situation upon his arrival when he greeted about 350 party workers with the words:

"Next year may be the Braves' year—this year is Eisenhower's."

Israeli Group Stages Walkout

JERUSALEM, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Israeli delegation to the Israel-Jordan Armistice Commission walked out of a meeting of the commission today just as the chairman was about to vote on a resolution proposed by Jordan.

The Israelis took the view the chairman was going to vote for it, thus giving it approval.

The resolution alleged an attack at Ramat Rachel Sept. 23 was carried out by a Jordan soldier who had run berserk.

Four Israelis were killed and 16 wounded in the shooting—directed at a party of archeological excursionists, the Israelis claim.

An Israeli foreign ministry spokesman said the Israeli delegation asked the vote be postponed "in view of the need for further deliberations."

This request was refused by the U.N. chairman, Norwegian Col. Christian Moen, the spokesman said. Votes on the commission number three—the Israeli delegate, the Jordan delegates and the chairman.

The spokesman said the walkout was intended to protest what he called "an attempt to belittle Jordan's responsibility for the incident itself."

Plane Carrying 13 Lands On Highway

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Oct. 1 (AP)—An American Dakota C47 transport plane with 13 men made an emergency landing today on a highway 1½ miles north of Keflavik.

The pilot said that when the plane was a half an hour's flying distance from Keflavik both engines stopped.

The plane was damaged but no one aboard was injured.

Today's Chuckle

Cars were driving through red lights and stop signs, double parking, and weaving in and out of traffic lanes. Said one boy to the other: "What do you want to be when you grow up?"

List To Show If U.S. VIPs Send Children To "Mixed" Schools

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—House investigators requested today—and were promised—an accounting of how many government officials in Washington send their children or grandchildren to racially mixed schools here.

The request was made by the House subcommittee, headed by Rep. James C. Davis, which has been taking testimony on the effects of integration of white and Negro children in the District of Columbia schools.

Dr. Hobart M. Corning, superintendent of schools, said he would supply the list. It is to cover the children and grandchildren of President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, Supreme Court justices, Cabinet members, White House aides, senators, House members and District of Columbia commissioners.

Hearings Completed
Chairman Davis announced an end to the hearings after Corning finished five hours of testimony. Davis said it was still possible that some witnesses might be called, but there were no plans to do this.

Subcommittee counsel William Gerber called the Washington school situation a "mess." This prompted a finger-shaking exchange with Corning, who defended school officials' actions in desegregating Washington classrooms in the fall of 1954 after the Supreme Court ruled against school segregation.

Gerber, of Memphis, Tenn., asked Corning how many Supreme Court justices send their children or grandchildren to Washington public schools.

Nixon Mentioned
Corning said he did not know but that a "good many" senators sent their youngsters to Washington schools.

Gerber then asked about Horace Mann Elementary School, which he described as an all-white school "where Vice President Nixon who is very much wrapped up in integration sends his children to school."

Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss.), a subcommittee member, chimed in with a comment that "Of course we know the President's grandchildren attend segregated schools over in Alexandria, I understand."

Milton Eisenhower Takes Hopkins Reins
BALTIMORE, Oct. 1 (AP)—No politics was the rule today as Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower took over as the eighth president of Johns Hopkins University.

Confronted by a battery of cameras and reporters rivaling his brother's White House press conferences, Dr. Eisenhower, 56, made it clear he intends to remain an educator and talk like an educator despite his role in the nation's diplomatic affairs.

He refused to comment on or discuss President Eisenhower, politics or any fields which he considered bordered on the two. He had nothing to say on Democratic criticism of his role as personal emissary of the President on South American relations.

The former president of Kansas State and Pennsylvania State universities did discuss his new post, education in general, Johns Hopkins in particular and college athletics.

Secret British A-Bomb Plane Crashes, Burns

LONDON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Vulcan, world's largest delta-wing bomber, missed the runway and crashed in flames at mist-shrouded London Airport today. Hair-trigger ejection seats catapulted the pilot and a British air marshal to safety, but four crewmen perished.

A distinguished crowd waiting to welcome the four-jet "Mighty Bat" home from a testing flight to Australia witnessed the crash.

The plane, one of Britain's secret atom-bomb carriers, roared out of driving rain and plunged into the ground while being "talked in" because of bad visibility.

Britain's bomber chief, Air Marshal Sir Harry Broadhurst and pilot Donald Howard—made last-second escapes as their ejector seats hurtled them through the cabin roof.

After an investigation, a spokesman for the Hawker-Siddeley group and A. V. Roe, makers of the Vulcan, said parts of the undercarriage were found in a plowed field several hundred yards in front of the runway outside the airport fence.

This, the spokesman said, indicated the aircraft touched down in advance of the concrete runway and the undercarriage was ripped off.

The Hawker spokesman said the pilot was coming in to land on a ground control approach—"a very normal procedure in bad weather."

Broadhurst, 50, was acting as copilot to Squadron Leader Howard, 33, on this proving flight of one of the world's mightiest war planes. They suffered only minor shock as parachutes eased them 300 feet to the ground.

The crash was only a few hundred yards in front of a welcoming committee of high government and Royal Air Force brass, airport personnel and a party of Russians at the airport waiting to meet the Bolshoi Ballet.

Song Writer Dies

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1 (AP)—Albert von Tilzer, writer of "Take Me out to the Ball Game" and other hit songs, died in his apartment today after a long illness. He was 78.

Shell Blast On Destroyer Fatally Injures Two Men

LANDSTUHL, Germany, Oct. 2 (Tuesday) (INS)—A hospital plane carrying 10 explosion-injured sailors from the Mediterranean landed in Germany early today. Aboard was the body of one of the two Navy men fatally injured by the blast at sea.

The second victim of the explosion of a shell during target practice aboard the destroyer J. R. Pierce in the Mediterranean died an hour before the plane touched down at Landstuhl at 1 a. m.

The Navy reported one sailor was killed and 12 injured when a shell exploded in the barrel of a five inch gun. However, only

Eisenhower Turns Heat On Congress

Holds Out Promise
Of 70 Million Jobs,
Good Pay If Elected

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower ripped into the Democratic-controlled Congress tonight and held out the promise of good-paying jobs for 70 million Americans if he is re-elected.

In a train-plane sortie into Ohio and Kentucky, the President lashed out at his rival, Adlai E. Stevenson. He said the Democratic presidential nominee was an "apparently confused" candidate who wants to return to the "zig-zag, directionless road of trial and error" Eisenhower said the Democrats have pursued in the past.

In contrast, the Republican nominee said if he has four more years in the White House, "I can see an America in which every man can eat his own bread in peace, raise his own family in security and strengthen his own mind and spirit in dignity."

"This will be an America where there are more than 70 million jobs at good wages," he declared. "Unfinished Business"

Much as former President Harry S. Truman did in 1948, Eisenhower turned out White House heat against Congress. This time it is a Democratic-controlled Congress, instead of 1948's GOP-dominated session, that felt the scorch of presidential condemnation.

Eisenhower said in a speech prepared for a GOP rally in the University of Kentucky's Coliseum that Congress left a lot of "unfinished business" to which, he added, "I shall return" in a second term.

Specifically, he blamed the Democrats for Congress' failure to act on federal school aid, help for local unemployment areas, expansion of minimum wage coverage, occupational therapy assistance and "further help to small business."

Eisenhower was greeted by a large airport crowd and thousands of persons who lined Lexington's streets as he swung into Kentucky after a mid-day speech in the jammed public square at Cleveland, Ohio.

Ike Greeted By Chandler
He got a surprise when Democratic Gov. A. B. Chandler was the first to greet him when his plane, Columbine III, touched the ground.

As he came off the plane, Eisenhower exclaimed to John Sherman Cooper, former ambassador and now a GOP candidate for the Senate, "Hello, John."

Then the President saw Chandler, standing with outstretched hand.

"Why, hello, governor," he said. "It's awfully good of you to come out. Thank you for coming out."

Chandler told reporters he and the President were "old friends" and he thought it was a courtesy due the President to turn out for his arrival.

Asked if Eisenhower's visit to Kentucky would hurt the Democratic ticket's chances in November, Chandler replied with a grin: "Well, it won't do any good. He (Eisenhower) will get a lot of votes in Kentucky."

No "Restricted" Hotel For Nixon

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 1 (AP)—Vice President Nixon said today he has "a standard rule" against quarantining his campaign entourage in hotels which have a racial discrimination policy.

Nixon gave his views at a news conference here prior to a noon rally.

He was asked why his party made a sudden change in hotel plans during the weekend at St. Petersburg, Fla.

"I have a standard rule," he said, "that we are always to stay at what we call unrestricted hotels." In some states, he explained that might not be possible, but to the extent that it was possible he would adhere strictly to it.

The advance staff which made the original St. Petersburg arrangements, he said, presumably was not aware of his policy.

He noted that wherever possible, he holds his rallies in public squares or buildings where no discrimination is practiced.

Jewish leaders at St. Petersburg complained that the Tides Hotel, where Nixon was scheduled to stay, was "restricted against the Jewish people." Following a sudden switch, the Nixon party spent the weekend at the Edward James Hotel.

Mahoney Charges Butler 'Omissions'

BALTIMORE, Oct. 1 (AP)—Senator Butler failed to tell the whole story regarding the conviction of his 1950 campaign manager on charges of violation of the Corrupt Practices Act, in a television interview Sunday, charged his opponent George P. Mahoney today.

Mahoney issued a statement keeping alive the 1950 campaign in which Butler ousted the long-time Democrat, Millard Tydings.

The statement came out of Mahoney's Baltimore headquarters while both candidates were campaigning personally in Southern Maryland.

Jon Jonkel of Chicago was fined $5,000 after the 1950 campaign. Butler said Jonkel was hired to do his public relations by the Republican Party of Maryland and "assumed the character of a manager."

Yesterday in a television interview, Butler said "he was never intended to be my manager, he was never brought here for that purpose and I will say I was a little bit shocked and surprised the charge was made that he committed in the course of a non-resident manager and the fined for that reason."

"And that was the reason he was fined—because he was a non-resident manager."

The Republican Senator also expressed belief there would have been no "foundation whatever for bringing any charge" against Jonkel if he had been a resident of Maryland.

"Does Senator Butler mean to imply that Jonkel's only offense was the fact that as a Chicagoan he was registered as a campaign manager in Maryland he acted in that capacity?" asked Mahoney in his statement.

"That appears to be the meaning Butler intended to convey—and it covers up much that is significant in the Jonkel case."

"Among the six indictments to which Jonkel pleaded guilty were others which charged failure to report contributions and expenditures as required by law and failure to keep detailed financial records required by law."

"Judge Joseph Sherbow, who heard the case, termed the offenses charged 'much more than mere technical violations' of the little bit shocked and surprised the charge was made that he committed in the course of a non-resident manager and the fined for that reason."

"And that was the reason he was fined—because he was a non-resident manager."

Trial Of Truck, Rail Damage Cases Begins

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1 (AP)—Charges of illegal restraint of trade were hurled back and forth by the trucking and railroad industries today as their damage suits against one another for a combined total of 370 million dollars went to trial in U.S. District Court.

Judge Thomas J. Clary, who is hearing the cases without a jury, heard opening statements by attorneys for both sides.

Pennsylvania truckers are suing a group of eastern railroads for treble damages of 250 million dollars under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. The railroads are asking 120 million dollars in treble damages from the truckers in a countersuit filed under the same federal law.

The trial opened with a statement by Harold E. Kohn, counsel for the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. and 37 trucking firms. The railroads' case then was outlined by Philip Price, Pennsylvania Railroad counsel, speaking on behalf of 30 railroads and the Eastern Railroad Presidents Conference.

Oregon Paper Switches To Ike

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 1 (AP)—The Oregon Journal, which four years ago gave its editorial support to Adlai Stevenson, said today it favors re-election of President Eisenhower.

The newspaper said it feels, as it did four years ago, that both men are able, each is the strongest in his party, and "the country could not be seriously hurt with the election of either."

81-Year-Old Widow Is Fatally Burned

BOONSBORO, Md., Oct. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Sadie Ellen Itnyre, 81-year-old widow who lived alone, burned to death today from an unexplained fire in an upholstered chair.

A relative, Earl Itnyre, who lived nearby told sheriff's deputies he saw the elderly woman run out of the house clutching a flaming cardboard box. Her dress also was in flames.

Itnyre said he rushed to the woman, wrapped her in a blanket and took her inside where she died within a few minutes. He said he put out the fire which was confined to the armchair.

The sheriff was investigating the cause of the blaze.

Truck Injures Blind Woman, Kills Eye Dog

BALTIMORE, Oct. 1 (AP)—A hit-and-run truck today struck down and injured a blind woman television performer and killed her seeing-eye dog.

Mrs. Helen Tullis, well known locally for her former weekly TV program (on WMAR) suffered a head laceration. Her collie dog "Prince," who was her constant companion and guide for seven years, was killed. He was one of the first collies to be used as a guide dog.

Police said they got only a scanty description of the truck, a tractor-trailer, and have not located it.

Eisenhower

Eisenhower sailed into the Democrats with a vim in both his Cleveland and Lexington speeches.

In Cleveland he said that while peace that exists is not all that anyone could wish, he resents the "anguished cry of some politicians—palpably meaning Stevenson—that there is no peace."

"Do they think they can make America's parents and wives believe that their sons and husbands are being shot at?" he demanded.

Without mentioning Stevenson's name Eisenhower accused his rival of engaging "in the wild extremes of charging this administration with such fabulous failing as not guarding the peace—and not caring for the welfare of any humble citizen or any needy family in our land."

It would be "foolish," the President said, to "revert now to the unsound, inflationary, antibusiness, heavy-tax, heavy-spending, government interference, centralized control policies" which he said the Democrats had followed.

Mine Workers Open Convention Today

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1 (AP)—The United Mine Workers of America, whose conventions in the past often have been held amid internal strife or controversies with operators, will open their 42nd constitutional meeting here tomorrow in what shapes up as a peaceful setting.

For six years the miners and the operators have been getting along without major difficulties. There are reports that a contract with the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn., already has been agreed upon and will be reported to the convention. It is understood it will call for wage increases totaling $2.00 a day for the miners whose basic wage now is $20.25 a day.

Hagerstown Grade Crossing Will Go

BALTIMORE, Oct. 1 (AP)—The State Roads Commission will advertise for bids Oct. 16 on a five-million-dollar job to eliminate a troublesome railroad grade crossing on U.S. 40 in Hagerstown.

Gov. McKeldin yesterday called the move "one of the most beneficial public works projects in the history of Washington County."

The crossing now takes Pennsylvania Railroad and Western Maryland Railway tracks across four principal east-west streets in Hagerstown. It has been holding up traffic ever since people went west in wagons instead of automobiles.

McKeldin said the enterprise has been under discussion since 1910. The two railroads will combine their tracks so both may use the projected overpass.

Gov. McKeldin Dedicates New Police Barracks

WALDORF, Md., Oct. 1 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today dedicated a shiny new State Police barracks here with a declaration that Maryland's highways must be patrolled "at all hours of the day and night" to try to curb the slaughter of motorists.

Estes Raps Eisenhower And Berison

WACO, Tex., Oct. 1 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said tonight President Eisenhower is "too busy" trying to win an election with sunshine and smiles to do anything effective to help small farmers and ranchers hard pressed by drought.

The Democratic vice-presidential nominee climaxed the first day of his second campaign tour with a speech at the big "Heart O' Texas" fair, hammering hard at the Republicans on the farm issue.

He centered much of his attack directly on the President, but did not forget to include some jabs at a favorite target of the Democrats, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Kefauver noted that 115 of Texas' 254 counties are listed as disaster areas because of drought, and remarked, "I am not going to blame the drought on the Republicans."

Kefauver arrived at Dallas' Love Field while water was still standing on the runways from a hard shower which fell at mid-morning. He campaigned en route to Waco through country which had been hard hit by extreme drought and where some spottish showers fell this morning.

Maryland Crime Rate Rise Noted In Survey

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—Maryland was the only state in its section of the country which didn't experience some decrease in its crime rate the first six months of this year.

An FBI survey covered Maryland, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia. All except Maryland had less crime of one sort or another compared with the first half of 1955.

The city crime rate in Maryland for murder and non-negligence went up from 2.9 to 3.7 per 100,000 residents.

Butler Charges Rival Employs "Big Lie"

BALTIMORE, Oct. 1 (AP)—Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md.) lashed back today at a statement issued by George P. Mahoney Sunday charging him with employing the "big lie" and "big doubt" technique in his campaigning.

"For George Mahoney to cry foul is 'an insult to the intelligence of the people of Maryland,'" Butler declared of his Democratic opponent for the Senate.

"The Acheson-Reuther candidate has fouled more big men in Maryland politics than all other candidates of all parties put together," Butler went on to charge. "He has smeared every Republican and Democratic candidate he has ever campaigned against."

Chest To Get Share Of City Movie Taxes
The Mayor and Council has promised a share of its movie charity tax fund to the Cumberland Community Chest campaign but the exact amount will not be known until the end of the fiscal year.

In an order passed yesterday, council pointed out that in the past it has been the custom to contribute from the fund for various charitable organizations and the Chest. But proceeds have declined in the past several years and the city can no longer support demands on the fund, it was pointed out.

Since the amount in the fund is not ascertained until the end of the fiscal year and, in order to distribute it in an equitable manner, council agreed to allocate to the Chest that percentage of the movie charity tax fund which the sum of $9,000 shall bear to the total amount of other contributions against the fund during the fiscal year.

Prior to the allocation, however, direct charges for maintenance of the Girl Scout House and Allegany County League for Crippled Children headquarters will be deducted.

In other activity, council confirmed Clarence D. Valentine as a regular member of the Police Department effective Wednesday.

A proclamation naming Wednesday, October 24, as "United Nations Day" was approved.

Payment of $1,300 to Municipal Concert Band for expenses for the quarter ending September 30 was authorized.

Parking meter inspector Harry Whisner reported collections the week of September 16 as $686.41 compared to $668.45 the week of September 23, a decrease of $17.96.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery reported receipts of $2,065.30 last month including $1,752.30 from bingo tax and recreation admission tax on bingo.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said there were 712 arrests made last month with $1,526 in fines. There were 20 fires reported but damage was minor.

The water level at Lake Gordon is six inches below the crest of the spillway and in Lake Koon one half inch above. Water consumption for the week ending Sunday was 82,880,000 gallons compared to 88,570,000 the same period a year ago.

Remember, sickness and accidents give no warning. Plan now to join hospital-sponsored BLUE CROSS.

There must be a reason why so many thousands of Maryland citizens already have Blue Cross. In 1955, for example, Blue Cross added 62,000 subscribers—over 170 people every day. One fact that made up their minds was this:

"Blue Cross, the non-profit plan to pre-pay hospital expenses, offers broad, realistic protection at such a small monthly rate."

It's true: Blue Cross protection is difficult to match. Not only does it protect you, as a subscriber, from the worry of unexpected hospital bills, but it protects your family as well, on a family membership, and keeps you protected after age 65, even though you move, change jobs, or retire.

Key to Blue Cross: "Service Benefits"

The heart of Blue Cross is hospital care. Blue Cross's way of providing for the hospital care you may need is "service benefits." These are, to put it simply, agreements between Blue Cross and the member hospital to provide the hospital care you need. All of the hospital's regular services are included in this agreement.

The emphasis, you see, is on care—not cash. Blue Cross does not give you dollars to help pay your hospital bills. Instead Blue Cross, through its "service benefits" pays the hospital directly for the services covered in your membership. You don't have to file a claim, or wait for reimbursement. Dollar payments are often not enough to cover hospital bills. Blue Cross records show that Blue Cross "service benefits" do often cover a subscriber's hospital expenses in full.

Find out now about Blue Cross

If there is a Blue Cross group where you work ask your employer how you may join it. If there is no Blue Cross group where you work, and there are five or more people employed there, ask your employer about getting Blue Cross protection for you. You may get information about Blue Cross by calling the Blue Cross office listed in your telephone directory, or by writing for a free booklet to: Blue Cross, Dept 1007, 200 West Baltimore St., Baltimore 1, Maryland.

KEYSER — Anauta, the only Eskimo woman on the American platform, will be featured in the first convocation of the year Wednesday, October 10 at 11 a. m. in the auditorium at Potomac State College, as announced by the public exercises committee.

Acclaimed by such commentators as Lowell Thomas, Anauta was born and grew to womanhood on the northern tip of Baffin Island, about 400 miles from the North Pole. She was reared as a nomadic Eskimo, hunting, trapping and singing, living the life of a male Eskimo.

She became especially proficient in shooting seal, deer and polar bear; driving dog sleds; building snow houses, preparing "frost-cooked" meals, and making beautiful garments from animal skins.

Author of some books, she has written "Land of the Good Shadows," "Children of the Blizzard," and "Wild Like the Foxes."

Young Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller, won his right to represent Maryland when he was judged first-place winner in tractor operation at Maryland State Fair, Timonium, in September. As his award in the Richmond competition, Miller received an engraved watch.

This is the sixth year the Eastern contest has been held. A similar contest has been held in Maryland for nine years, according to Guy W. Gier, extension agricultural engineer.

Judging was based on (1) written and practical examination; (2) driving a tractor through an obstacle course; and (3) belting. Safety in operation was considered throughout the program.

Conducted Tours Offered During Annual W. Va. Forest Festival This Week

ELKINS—Three conducted tours will provide an eyeeful of scenic beauty for the proverbial "sightseer" coming to Elkins for the 20th annual Mountain State Forest Festival opening October 4.

A 101-mile tour takes the sightseer to Spruce Knob Lake and and Spruce Knob, the highest mountain in West Virginia with an elevation of 4,860 feet.

The 25-acre lake, built in 1953 for public fishing, is the first one financed by dollar stamps purchased by fishermen and hunters using National Forest land.

William Stiteler Jr., timber manager assistant for the US Forest Service, who is general chairman of the tours, cited a second drive of an hour and a half duration: This one takes the motorist into nearby Monongahela National Forest over the scenic Stuart Memorial Drive, visiting mountain overlooks and retreats. The elevations range from 1,930 feet at Elkins to 4,008 feet at Bickle Knob fire tower.

Just 11.6 miles from Elkins on the Stuart Memorial Drive, there stands a small remnant of the stands of virgin red spruce which once occupied extensive areas in the high country of West Virginia. The third tour is through Monongahela National Forest to Blackwater Falls State Park and return to Elkins via Parsons, Thomas, Davis and Harman.

The spectator has a chance to see Seneca Rocks, standing like a cathedral in stone 12 miles from Harman, and pass through Canaan Valley which boasts of a climate like Quebec, Canada. Breathless scenery is afforded the sightseer viewing the Blackwater Canyon and falls which drop some 62 feet.

A view of the West Virginia version of "Sun Valley" is observed in Canaan Valley near Davis where a popular ski resort has developed in the past three years, drawing hundreds of winter sports enthusiasts from Washington, D. C., and neighboring states.

Stiteler explained that literature on the three tours will be available at the official Forest Festival information center, and persons desiring directed tours will be received at his office in the U. S. Forestry Building, Assisting Stiteler on the tours committee are: Ernest F. Smith, F. H. Sipe, C. R. McKim, John Ballantyne and Richard Kennell.

In last Monday's balloting, Edward Duckworth was nominated for mayor and remains unopposed for that office. He is completing his tenth term as commissioner.

Mayor Charles Dayton, currently on a tour of Europe, did not seek re-election.

Nominated as councilmen last week were Thomas Haywood, Alvania Diaz, Kenneth Wilcox and Luther Crites.

The fourth member of the Town Council is Milton Sively, who failed to receive enough votes to qualify for the official ballot. He is completing his second term.

A Tribute..To Our School Teachers!

Today, as no time before in history, the school teacher is recognized as the builder of tomorrow's America. With juvenile delinquency increasing apace, and foreign ideologies creeping into our school books, it is high time that glowing tribute was paid to these patient men and women who instruct our young. Let's remember that teachers are human beings, not machines. Let's give them the support and confidence they so richly deserve. Let's attend P-T-A meetings and contribute something more than children. This community is fortunate in having such fine schools and outstanding educators. We applaud their work and their good American achievements!

ITCHY SCALP?

NEW SCIENTIFIC FORMULA* STOPS DANDRUFF AND ITCHY SCALP

Proved successful in 97.3% of severe cases tested!

The Sebb formula was tested by an eminent dermatologist on extreme dandruff cases who suffered so severely from seborrheic dermatitis that professional help was necessary. These were patients who had eruptions not only on the scalp, but on ears, face, neck, chest and arms. In 97.3% of these cases, Sebb was successful!

Then Sebb was given to men and women with "everyday" dandruff problems—itching scalp, dryness, flaking, scaling, irritation, the constant annoyance of dandruff. These reports speak for themselves.

Miss Patricia King, Washington, D.C.: "Sebb stopped my dandruff and itchy scalp in 6 days. In fact, it stopped the itching almost immediately. All the flaking had disappeared in less than a week, and not a single trace of it remained."

Mr. A. Thompson, Washington, D.C.: "I noticed a big difference in my scalp right after my first application of Sebb. My dandruff disappeared in less than a week, and not a single trace of it remained."

SEBB IS SAFE—No doctor's prescription is needed. Sebb is a new combination of drugs never before used to combat dandruff, itchy scalp and seborrheic dermatitis. Its continued use stops the return of dandruff and itchy scalp.

EASY TO USE AS WATER—Just shake it on your scalp right out of the bottle. Then comb your hair and forget it. Sebb is not the least bit oily or greasy, so there's no mess. Sebb has no medicinal odor, just a mild pleasant scent.

MONEY BACK GUARANTEE—When used regularly according to directions, Sebb is guaranteed to stop dandruff and itchy scalp or your money refunded in full when bottle with remaining contents is returned to Pharmaceutical Division, Max Factor Laboratories, Los Angeles, California.

New Rec Director Named By 3-2 Vote Of Council

Gwyn Fletcher of Portsmouth, Va., is the split-vote choice of the Mayor and Council for the post of recreation director, but there's no official confirmation Fletcher will accept the job.

Council acted on the recommendation of the Cumberland Recreation Board at its meeting yesterday, approving Fletcher by a 3-2 ballot. Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz and Finance Commissioner John J. Long voted "No" on the order, and both cited the starting salary as their reason for objecting.

Under the order authorizing Mayor Eves to execute a contract with Fletcher, his salary would be $6,000 for the one year period beginning October 1 and expiring October 1, 1957.

This is $60 less than the former director, Robert E. Pence, was receiving at the time he resigned September 11 to accept a position with the Allegheny County Board of Education.

May Not Accept
Authoritative sources at City Hall said yesterday the order was ready for enactment last week. Fletcher was here at that time and would have accepted appointment.

However, in view of the delay, the split vote and several other job offers which he has been weighing, the new appointee may not accept. He was reported to be in Philadelphia yesterday looking into another recreation offer.

Fletcher has been superintendent of recreation in Portsmouth and had taken a leave of absence from that post to be graduate

County Gets Bill For Church Damage

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, has submitted a bill for $75 to the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners for damage caused to the church roof when slate blew off the Court House tower and struck the roof of the church next door.

This matter was referred to Charles F. Helmrich, insurance adjuster.

The commissioners also instructed County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman to place "no parking" signs along Cash Valley Road near its intersection with U.S. Route 40. This was done after Mrs. George Waingold wrote to complain that it was almost impossible to drive along Cash Valley Road because of the heavy parking.

Ervin Orndorff asked if a 25-foot road running off U.S. Route 220 near Rawlins might be taken into the county roads system. William H. Lemmert, board president, informed him that the road would have to be 30 feet wide before the county would accept it.

New Bridge Class Will Open Tuesday

"Jo Woods at the Bridge Table" is the title of the course, which will continue for 10 successive Tuesdays. The class will be limited to 28. Registration may be made by calling the Recreation Department office at City Hall. Some 172 persons enrolled in the four beginners' bridge classes held in the past year.

Ridgeley Legion Will Meet Tonight

A regular membership meeting will be held at 8 p. m. at the post home.

Crafts Meet Tonight

The Building and Construction Trades Council will meet today at 8 p. m. in the Allegheny Labor Temple.

that the salary must be higher than the national average, but he said in the future he suggested that all efforts be made to find a local man for the job.

Mayor Roy W. Eves in joining Keegan and Edwards in voting "Yes," said his vote was a "vote of confidence in the Recreation Board." He added the salary is not out of line and added some applicants could not take the job because they are getting more money than the city can offer.

The Cumberland Recreation Board has submitted a letter to go with its recommendation but this was not read yesterday.

Fletcher had been introduced formally to the Mayor and Council last Monday by James L. Weber, chairman of the Rec Board. Weber said he had no comment until he heard from Fletcher concerning the action.

SCS District Board Will Be Elected

The Allegheny County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors is preparing for its triennial election, which probably will be held in early November.

Three board members will be up for election. They are Ernest R. Shider, Floyd Buser and D. T. Puffinberger. The other two members, Charles S. Harvey and Wilbert R. Paul, are serving by appointment.

At the group's recent meeting, Martin M. Gordon, soil conservation aide, said a pond will be built this month at Mt. Savage School. Funds will be provided by the State Game and Inland Fish Commission.

Join US Marines

Three area men enlisted last week in the United States Marine Corps, according to S/Sgt. S. K. Branson, recruiter in charge of the local station.

The men have arrived at Parris Island, S. C., to begin their basic training, he said yesterday.

Frederick Lee Yeager Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Yeager Sr., 619 Greene Street; James Russell Bower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant G. Bower, RFD No. 1, Buffalo Mills, Pa., and Vernon Delmer Drummond Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon D. Drummond Sr., 91 Spring Street, Frostburg, comprised the trio of enlistees.

Two Wills Filed In Orphans Court

The will of Howard Poland of Cresaptown, who died September 15 at the age of 88 was probated Friday in Allegheny County Orphans Court.

A son, Sco' Poland, RFD 5, qualified as executor under a $1,000 bond. He bequeathed virtually all of his property to Scott Poland and a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Davidson. The will was dated November 2, 1951.

The Second National Bank qualified as administrator c.t.a. of the estate of Elizabeth Cumiskey, who died February 10. She made cash bequests to Elizabeth Bell of Hyattsville and St. Patrick's Catholic Church. The rest of her estate was divided equally among Mary G. Leydig, Cumberland; Helen B. Hoecker, Portsmouth, Pa., and Marguerite L. Smiley, Hopkville, Ky. The will was dated November 17, 1943.

under the Act and proper penalties may be inflicted for violations.

"For reasons unknown to me this law has been, more or less, generally ignored by many of the counties throughout the state.

"May I suggest that you inquire from the governing bodies of the City and County why an inspector or inspectors have not been appointed as directed under the statute.

No Violations Reported.

"In my charge to the grand jury at the January term this year, I suggested that the law enforcement officers use their investigative powers to see that the coal truckers comply with the law by having the coal weighed by a licensed weigh master, and the delivery ticket showing the weight, kind, grade and size of the coal be given to the purchaser."

"The trucker is required to present this information if the truck is stopped by a police officer and this request is made. I have heard of no arrest for violation of this law. As the officers come before you, inquire if they have made any effort to enforce this law. It is for the protection of the consumer and should be enforced."

Half-Century Feud Nearing An End

Jealousy at one time was a much greater force in the American business world than most people realized, with many major inventions being contested in the courts by those who claimed the ideas were stolen from them. While a majority of the claims undoubtedly were faked, there were some persons who were sincere in the belief that they had developed the article or technique in question. In some cases, it was discovered that both parties had been coincidentally working on the same idea, unknown to each other.

This strict guardianship of every deed that might mean fame or riches for its perpetrator carried over even more strongly into the sports and adventure world. Every new record found challengers who claimed to have done it first.

One of the longest disputed records may be resolved soon by the findings, or lack of them, of an expedition to Alaska's Mt. McKinley. The late Dr. Frederick A. Cook claimed to be the first to scale this peak and the first to set foot on the North Pole. For two years he was recognized by leading scientific societies as the greatest explorer of the time.

Then, upon the return of Admr. Robert E. Peary from the North Pole, the controversy began. Peary claimed Cook never reached the top of Mt. McKinley, thereby throwing doubt on his North Pole venture as well. Members of Cook's party made sworn statements to the same effect, and Cook was discredited.

Mrs. Helen Cook Vetter, daughter of the explorer, has been trying for many years to clear her father's name and re-install him as king of these two locations. She is hoping the expedition now at Mt. McKinley will find some trace of Cook's presence, but in any event will accept the report of these explorers as the final verdict. Chances of finding any traces of the Cook party after 50 years are extremely remote, but the half-century feud between two great explorers is about to come to an end.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

A Very Dull Campaign

The 1956 election is less than six weeks away as this is being written. The campaign shows some motion and there have been some speeches. But the whole effort, of both parties, is astonishingly dull. Maybe the reformers have succeeded in achieving what they like to call a "clean election," that is, one in which there is such a deference to the other side that the whole business is meaningless. There is no genuine discussion, no ardent debate, no intense excitement. It is very dull. The best effort of the Democrats thus far is to accuse Dr. Milton Eisenhower of favoring Peron—when, as a matter of fact, Peron got the American taxpayers' money, more than $100,-000,000, during the prior administration.

Here in New York State there is supposed to be a contest for the United States Senatorship between Robert Wagner, Democrat, and Jacob Javits who is running on the Republican ticket. It is more like an "Apres vous, Gaston," politeness. Nothing happens. Senator Irving Ives has tried to make a martyr of Javits who does not look like a martyr of any kind and Wagner seems to go about his business of being Mayor of New York City as though there were no campaign at all. Everything is very peaceful and quiet and nobody discusses anything very seriously or with fire in his eyes. It is very dull. The greatest effort of the Republicans thus far has been to say that Mayor Wagner's successor, should he be elected, Abe Stark, while a very decent person, is not trained to be a Mayor, he running a haberdashery and clothing store. So did Harry Truman at one time. Also Javits says that he knows more about foreign affairs than Wagner does. But nobody boasts about knowing anything about the United States.

Of course, something could happen to brighten the campaign, a slip of the tongue might lead to a bit of self-exposure on the part of a candidate, such as the proposal for a four-day work week which could out-pace American production even in the American markets unless accompanied by an isolationist high tariff. From the general attitude, it would look as though there were nothing to argue about, no vast differences of opinion, no varieties of public opinion. The Republican campaign is centered on "I like Ike," the Democratic campaign on the hole in Stevenson's shoe.

The real issue, of course, is the Negro question. Both candidates are hedging and are asking everybody to obey the law as interpreted by the Supreme Court. But what has actually happened in the South is more serious, more fundamental than the Warren opinion on segregation in the schools. What has happened in the South is that an issue which both white and Negro communal leaders believed that they were handling well, has become so explosive a result of the Supreme Court decision that it reflects, in many aspects, similar anti-white movements in other parts of the world. And the white population has organized movements for States Rights that have actually put a Third Party on the ballot in some states with T. Coleman Andrews, the former Eisenhower tax collector who hates income tax, as its candidate. The Third Party will not, of course, send Andrews to the White House but it gives evidence of being a rallying post for those who are weary of the South being the tail to a Northern kite.

On the other hand, the enormous migration of Southern Negroes to the large industrial cities of the North, cities which have not usually been Democratic but have become so, forces the Democratic politicians to view their fortunes with strabismic eyes; in fact, they are so cross-eyed that what they see in the North frightens them more than what they see in the South and both frighten them plenty.

Politicians dislike even to mention the Negro question, but that is what faces this country where about 10 per cent of the population thinks in terms of equal rights which the Negroes contend are unavailable to them because of their color. And in the South, there are those who insist that Negroes should not have equal social rights no matter what advantages they enjoy. The social fear is intermarriage.

Questions of this nature cannot be buried in the sterile sands of campaign verbiage.

Farmers Fighting Inner Struggle Over Ike

By Stewart Alsop

DAVENPORT Interviewing farmers in the corn-hog country near here, you run into the same small, strange phenomenon again and again. You ask a farmer who he voted for in 1952, and he replies, "Eisenhower." You ask him whether he plans to vote for Eisenhower or Stevenson this year, and he replies, "Democratic."

The phenomenon is a symptom of a striking fact. A surprisingly high proportion of the farmers who gave President Eisenhower his landslide victory here in 1952 intend to switch this year — or so they say. But a great many of these same farmers also still like and admire the President, and very few of them express any genuine enthusiasm for Adlai Stevenson. They do not see themselves switching from Eisenhower to Stevenson, but rather from the Republican to the Democratic party.

Key Question "Eisenhower is a good, honest man," said one farmer, who spoke for many others, "but he's got too many big people pushing him around. Stevenson talks too slick, but I guess I'll vote Democratic anyway."

You put such a man down as an Eisenhower-to-Stevenson switcher. But is he? Will he really vote for a man he does not admire, against a man he does admire? That is one of the key questions in the current campaign.

Some of the switchers are certainly genuine. They can hardly wait to vote Democratic. For beneath the smiling, sunlit surface of this rich and rolling land there is a surprising bitterness, especially among the younger farmers.

If you used your eyes only, for example in Keokuk County, which this reporter has now twice visited, you would conclude that it was a prosperous, conservative, amazingly egalitarian community. Most of the farms look very much alike — the plain, clapboard houses, the shutterless windows, the big barn near the house, the red-painted farm machinery in the yard. No one, it seems, is rich — there are none of the big mansions you find in any European countryside. But no one is poor either.

Yet, if you use your ears as well as your eyes, you get a very different impression. Some of the farms — especially those of the older farmers — are owned free and clear. These men grumble, as farmers always do, but by and large they are sticking with Eisenhower. It is the younger men especially, who have gone into debt up to their necks to buy expensive machinery, who are really desperate. Some Not So Convincing. "Why should one group bear the whole brunt?" one of these men asked angrily. "It's unconstitutional." "There are some damn fools around here who will still vote Republican," another said. "They're voting to lose their farms." These men are certainly lost to Eisenhower. But there are others who say they voted for Eisenhower in 1952 and are going to vote Democratic this year, who do not sound quite convincing. They sound a little like a small boy who threatens to run away, but does not really mean it.

These are the men who will

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Looks like world peace is going for another moonlight sail down the drain.

Long ago we discovered that war didn't prove a thing. You have to hold a peace conference to find out how people hated one another.

Here's a little reprint from September 1946, ten years ago: "I still claim the Dardanelles are no more use to Russia than a bicycle in a storm at sea."

"The Straits constitute a bottle with two necks at Gibraltar and Suez. That's as plain as the trunk on an elephant's smile."

"However, if Stalin got into Mussolini's lake he would have a marine road map for leading a tough bull across a trestle bridge. Uncle Joe has a nuisance value he can sell at a big profit right now."

That was ten years ago when we warned the world the United Nations architect made a mistake making the reception room larger than the complaint department.

At the same time we covered the first conference thisaway. "Molotov acts like Russia had defeated its allies."

The big building over on the East River was tastily carpeted in wall-to-wall shadows of coming events.

Absolute 30-Day Truce Could End Feud Between Israel And Arabs

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's note — Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his grandson, Drew Arnold, on the subject of peace in the Holy Land.)

Dear Drew, I am now home from the Holy Land, and I still haven't written you about the camels I saw over there. I saw them in Beersheba in the south of Israel which is where Abraham used to bring his sheep and his camels and his goats to get water.

Today, Beersheba is quite a modern city, but the Arabs still bring their camels and their donkeys and their sheep into the town just as Abraham did more than 3,000 years ago.

In the Beersheba market I saw some Arabs loading camels onto a truck. The Arabs seem to be quite up to date and carry their camels by truck. But this truck already had three camels in it, which is a lot of camels for one truck; so a fourth camel just didn't want to get in. I didn't blame her. Because there wasn't room.

But the Arabs beat that poor camel and yanked her and whipped her, until finally she squeezed into the truck on top of the other camels. Later I saw the camels being unloaded at the farm of Sheikh Souleiman outside the city. They looked happier when they got out of that truck.

I also saw hundreds of camels along the road as I drove to the Dead Sea. I don't know what they live on, because there is almost no grass on the desert, but they seemed to get along. They belong to Bedouins — and — Arabs who live in Israel. As I told you in my last letter, there are lots of Arabs living in Israel in peace with the Jews. It's the Arabs outside Israel who don't live in peace.

Machine Guns In Holy City Probably you have seen the headlines in the newspapers lately about the shooting between the Arabs and the Jews who don't live in peace on the opposite sides of their border. Some of the worst of this shooting has been around Jerusalem, the holy city where Christ was buried.

Just a few weeks ago, your granddaddy was in Jerusalem and talked to a Jewish immigrant from Algiers who had a ladder tied to the balcony in front of his house. I saw the ladder and asked him why he had it in such a peculiar place. He explained that the main entrance to his house faced an Arab machine-gun nest and that sometimes the Arabs shot at him as he went in his front door. So, when they were in a shooting mood, he didn't use his main entrance, but lowered the ladder from his balcony and went in and out of his house that way.

I looked at the main entrance to his house and there, all around the doorway, were bullet holes.

The Arab machine-gun nest was only about as far away as across the street. But the Arabs were not in a shooting mood that day. And inasmuch as it was a hot day and cool on that side of the house, we sat down beside his main entrance to take a rest. Nothing happened. No Arabs shot at us. In fact, most of the time in Jerusalem they don't shoot.

Arab Cousins

That illustrates what I wrote you before, that there should be no real trouble between the Arabs and the Jews. As the Chief Rabbi of Jerusalem reminded me, the Jews and Arabs are cousins. They both are descended from Abraham — the Jews from his son Isaac and the Arabs from his son Ishmael.

Yet today, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the Canadian who heads the United Nations Truce Commission, has been cabling the State Department that war between Israel and the Arab states is more to be feared than ever. He is terribly worried about it and has informed Secretary Dulles that something drastic must be done.

The Jews have given the world some of the greatest scientists, some of the greatest artists, greatest writers, greatest businessmen. But so far they haven't been able to solve this greatest problem of all — peace. The word Jerusalem comes from the old Hebrew "Jerushalayem," which means "peace." But today in Jerusalem there is no peace.

And I was thinking that perhaps the solution to this trouble, the way to bring peace, might be quite simple — just stop shooting, arrange a real truce, and begin working at some people-to-people friendship. Perhaps if the statesmen of the world won't push this, maybe it could be inspired by little boys like you.

If, for instance, the little boys of Israel and the Arab states demanded of their fathers that this constant shooting back and forth across the border stop, then it might stop. Perhaps if they demanded that it stop for at least 30 days, and that no one on either side lift a finger for 30 days no matter what the provocation, then from that 30 days of thinking about peace, there might come more peace.

A Child Could Lead

You don't realize it, but little boys have a lot of influence. The person who can get in to see President Eisenhower quickest is not Secretary Dulles, but little David Eisenhower, who's about your age. He doesn't have to ask for an appointment. And his granddaddy would do anything in the world he wanted.

That's true too of the little boys in Israel and the Arab states. I don't know exactly how we could get the idea across to them, but if they all demanded an end to this useless shooting back and forth across the land from which came the Man who wanted to bring us peace, then perhaps his dream might be fulfilled. After all, it was He who taught that a little child shall lead them.

Perhaps this is a foolish idea of mine. But where the statesmen and soldiers and diplomats of the Holy Land have failed, maybe the children might succeed.

I hope to see you quite soon. Love from Your grandfather. (Copyright 1956, The Ball Syndicate Inc.)

Could your mother become a model? Or your grandmother? If they are between 40 and 60 that is possible. They would be "Matron Models." There is a demand for this type in New York. That's what Candy Jones Conover says and she should know. Mrs. Conover includes this interesting information in her book of helpful hints for aspiring models titled "Should You Be A Model?"

The stargazers constantly suggest that persons interested in astrology make a study of the lives of people born under the same sign. Therefore, I will call attention to the signs of some celebrities. Under Aries (March 21-April 20) were born: J. P. Morgan, Charles Schwab, Mary Pickford, Gloria Swanson, Joan Crawford. Under Taurus (April 21-May 20) were Shakespeare, Marconi, Lionel Barrymore, W. R. Hearst, Claudette Colbert and Marie Corelli. Under Cancer (June 22-July 23) were John Wanamaker, J. D. Rockefeller, Calvin Coolidge, the Duke of Windsor and the Duchess of Windsor. Aquarius (January 21-February 19) — Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Edison, Charles Lindbergh, Franklin D. Roosevelt, John Barrymore, Evangeline Adams. Under Pisces (February 20-March 20) were George Washington, Grover Cleveland, Caruso, Mary Garden, Elsie Janis, Jean Harlow. Under Libra (September 24-October 23) — Eleanor Roosevelt, Sarah Bernhardt, Greer Garson, Janet Gaynor, Constance Bennett, Helen Hayes and Carole Lombard. Under Leo (July 24-August 23) — Napoleon Bonaparte, Henry Ford, Bernard Baruch, George Bernard Shaw, Leo Durocher, Norma Shearer and Myrna Loy.

Recalling long song titles, a New Yorker offers a ditty titled: "If I Had of Knew What I Ought To Have Knew, I'd Never Did What I Done." Also, a World War II ballad titled, "Send a Great Big Salami to Your Boy Friend in the Army and He Will Bring Home the Bacon To You." Longest title I can think of off-hand is that of a touching love song by Jack Norworth called "Milly Will You Be My Little Filly and Race Around the Track of Life With Me."

PLEASE NOTE

Many modern owners race horses long after the animals should have been retired. Some of these horses break down during a race and present a pitiful spectacle. Some stumble and cause accidents. This regrettable practice has evidently been going on for over 2,000 years. Horace, another ancient horse expert, observed in the year 8 B.C., "Be wise in time and turn loose the ageing horse lest at last he stumble amid jeers and break his wind."

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A slick animal trader sold a farmer a none-too-robust mule, with the assurance, "This here mule will give you no trouble whatever. He'll respond immediately to a couple of kind words."

The farmer tried every kind word he knew on the mule, but the results were nil. Disillusioned, he marched it back to the trader and said, "You lied to me about this critter, mister. He just won't do nothing."

The trader picked up a big stick, and proceeded to clobber the stuffings out of the mule. "Wait a minute," protested the farmer. "I thought you told me just to use kind words."

"Sure I did," agreed the trader, "but first you got to win his attention."

Resting between pictures at the ranch of a prosperous associate, Producer Sam Goldwyn saw a bull take after four or five cows. "Look at that!" exclaimed Mr. G. "He's only human!"

EBBETS FIELD CLUBHOUSE. the day the Dodgers won—INS—Hello folks, this is your genial old announcer Scabby Scavoni just a'talkin' to you folks from the clubhouse as our boys storm in from the diamond—as I call it—where they have just won the gonfalon in the Senior Circuit—as I call the National League—by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates of Pittsburgh by a score of eight to six, the Brooklyn Dodgers having eight wins and the Pittsburgh Pirates having six, and believe you me, folks, there's never been a scene like this because the lads had to go all out to win this one and if they had not won it and Milwaukee beat the St. Louis Cardinals of St. Louis, Missouri. It would have been all tied up and that would have meant we went into overtime—as I call it—or in other words a two out of three game playoff for the right to represent the Senior Circuit against the Yankees, who had againsts pretty much their own way most of the year owing to the fact that the competition over in the Junior Circuit isn't what it is in the Senior Circuit but be that as it may, and no harm intended if any was given, we are certain having a great celebration here in the dressing room of the Brooklyn Dodgers and if they can spare the time from the happy time they are having, one and all, I want to bring them to this microphone after a word from Urpo, for that nauseated feeling each morning, who brought you this season's games on radar.

(20 minutes later.) Thank you, Eustus P. Fraggie, vice president in charge of sales of Urpo, for that nauseated feeling each morning, and now back to our happy celebration here in the locker room of the winners of the pennant in the Senior Circuit, and believe you me it's a sight to remember, but I know you want to hear from the heroes themselves and not from our genial old announcer Scabby Scavoni, so without further ado as I say—let's have them come up to our Urpo microphone and tell us in their own words, right from the bottom of their happy little hearts, how they feel about coming from behind, closing fast in the home stretch, and nipping the Milwaukee Braves at the wire in the nick of time when all seemed lost and many had deserted the cause, as you might say, and so come over here Captain Pee Wee Reese, right over here Pee Wee, right between the drum major of the Symphony band which is playing something or other and Walter O'Malley, who has just put in a fine plea for the people to build our heroes a new stadium, you can see me Pee Wee, but, oh, I see, yes I forgot about you being signed up by No Growl, the answer to Urpo, but no hard feelings, and so on to Duke Snider, whose two home runs today, four runs scored and those great catches saved the day and, oh, you've promised Happy Felton first dibs on you?—well, I understand Duke, so here's good old Don Newcombe, who is more fun than a barrel of monkeys who will now step up and—just a moment, folks—Don is tied up with an Ed Sullivan contract and can't talk, but next we have my good friend Sandy Amoros who, oops, just remembered, he can't speak English good like me, so we'll pass right on next to Roy Campanello who... who just left unfortunately... but don't go 'way, folks, we've got a special message to give you from none other than Urpo.

(34 minutes later.) Thank you, Mr. Fraggie, for that inspiring message and I'm sure that if every red-blooded American took your words to heart, well, it would be a lot happier country and a stronger bulwark against communism—as I call it—and I could say more but here we are back at that happy celebration in the Ebbets Field lockerroom, getting the lowdown from the bottom of their hearts from victorious Dodger players who today reached the pinnacle of the crest, if not the topmost rung of a comeback that will be talked about for years to come, and with that thought in mind I was just wondering as I looked around the place what become of the players who were here, but it takes more than players to win a pennant and so it's my pleasure to present the only remaining person in the victorious clubhouse, your friend and mine, Lee Scott, custodian of the press box, so step right up to our URPO microphone and said a word Mr. Scott.

"I got an ulcer myself," Scotty said proudly.

Thank you Lee Scott, your friend and mine, and now back to Eustus P. Fraggie after hearing the real lowdown from the... (Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)

Oklahoma Again Heads AP Weekly Football Poll

Most Teams Reshuffled In 2nd Vote

Michigan State, Georgia Tech Are Second And Third

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

Oklahoma, Michigan State and Georgia Tech are the nation's top three football teams in the opinions of sports writers and broadcasters. Then, with their minds on the World Series, they're apparently paraphrasing an old baseball question and asking: Who's in fourth?

Although there were few, if any, major upsets last weekend, the second weekly Associated Press ranking poll resulted in another big reshuffling of the top ten teams. Eight of last week's first ten retained their places in the upper group, but except for Oklahoma's No. 1 ranking, none held the same spot.

Oklahoma received 60 first-place votes out of 97 ballots cast, 20 more for second place and polled 883 points on the usual basis of ten for first, nine for second, etc. As usual, the balloting dropped off a bit during the excitement over the end of the baseball season.

Spartans Impressive Michigan State, an impressive winner over Stanford in its seasonal debut, moved ahead of Georgia Tech into second place with 17 firsts and 773 points to Tech's five and 662.

Oklahoma, the top choice in the AP pre-season poll, opened its season with a 36-0 victory over North Carolina while Michigan State whipped Stanford 21-7. Meanwhile Georgia Tech chalked up its second close one of the season, beating Southern Methodist, early conqueror of Notre Dame, by a 9-7 count.

After these three, the writers and broadcasters participating in the AP poll indicated a lot of doubt as to how the teams should be ranked. On the point scores they came out in this order: Ohio State, Michigan, Mississippi, Pittsburgh, Texas Christian, Tennessee and Southern California.

Big Ten Is Strong The strong opening performances of the Big Ten teams apparently made a big impression. Ohio State moved up from eighth place and Michigan from 13th. Mississippi's smashing victory over Kentucky boosted the Rebels from ninth and Pitt climbed from tenth after stopping Syracuse. Tennessee wasn't even rated in the first 20 a week ago, but a lopsided victory over Auburn earned a ninth-place ranking.

Syracuse and Southern Methodist dropped into the second division to make room for these newcomers.

Ohio State was the only team in the first ten which failed to receive even one vote for first place.

The top ten teams with first place votes and win-loss records (points on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

1. Oklahoma (6) ..... 1-0 883
2. Michigan State (17) ..... 1-0 773
3. Georgia Tech (5) ..... 2-0 662
4. Ohio State ..... 1-0 437
5. Michigan (2) ..... 1-0 420
6. Mississippi (2) ..... 2-0 385
7. Pittsburgh (1) ..... 2-0 357
8. Texas Christian (1) ..... 1-0 320
9. Tennessee (3) ..... 1-0 241
10. Southern California (1) ..... 1-0 205

Second Ten

11. Texas A&M ..... 2-0 110
12. Southern Methodist ..... 1-1 67
13. (tie) Illinois ..... 1-0 55
14. Miami (Fla) ..... 1-0 47
15. Army ..... 1-0 46
16. Baylor ..... 2-0 46
17. Notre Dame ..... 0-1 30
18. (tie) Syracuse ..... 1-1 29
19. Vanderbilt ..... 2-0 29
20. Iowa ..... 1-0 28

Arkansas and Penn State each received one first place vote.

Terp Injuries Still Mount

Four More Players Become Disabled

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 1 (AP)—Misfortunes among University of Maryland football players continued to pile up today.

Joining the casualty and hospital lists were the first two right ends, Ed Cooke and Dick Porter, first string halfback Jack Healy, and second string halfback Bob Layman.

Cooke and Porter are in the university infirmary here with a virus infection. Layman is in University Hospital in Baltimore with suspected appendicitis. The sprained ankle Healy suffered in Saturday's Wake Forest game in which he caught the touchdown pass for Maryland's 6-0 victory, turned out to be severe enough to make his usefulness in Saturday's game with Baylor doubtful.

In addition Bob Rusevlyan, who has been playing both halfback and quarterback because of a depleted personnel situation, came out of the Wake Forest game with bruised ribs and will have to forego contact practice. Coach Tommy Mont earlier this season had lost quarterback Frank Tamburello to the Army and halfback Howie Dare to an attack of yellow jaundice.

Two other backs counted on by Mont during spring practice didn't come back for the fall term.

Guards Remain Unbeaten In K-C Bowling League

The Guards swept past the Records, 3-0, last night in the Knights of Columbus Bowling League to remain unbeaten with 12 consecutive wins.

In the other loop match rolled on the Club Recreation alleys the Chancellors took two games from the Grand Knights. High man for the evening was Jack Loibel Jr., of the Chancellors with 198-502.

Other high scorers were Tom McGeady, Records, 476; Bern Tasker, Guards, 447; and Joe LaGratta, Grand Knights, 426. The standings:

Guards	12-1	Chancellors	5-7

Busso Wins 7th Victory In Row

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Johnny Busso, one of the best young prospects in the lightweight division, racked up his seventh straight victory by gaining a split decision over able Tommy Salem of Cleveland in a telecast 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena tonight. Busso, an 8-5 favorite outweighed his rival 139 to 136½.

Dodgers' Series Opener Pitching Choice Uncertain

Maglie's Shoulder Sore, Hurler Says

BROOKLYN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Sal (The Magnificent) Maglie had the miseries today, leaving wide open the question of who will be Brooklyn's pitcher against the New York Yankees and lefthander Whitey Ford in Wednesday's World Series opener at Ebbets Field.

The Dodgers, hungry for some relaxation after the frantic finish to the National League pennant race, had the day off. But when Maglie showed up with the rest to pick up his ticket allotment, he admitted to an upset stomach and reported his shoulder "a bit stiff."

That confirmed Manager Walt Alston's worry over the 39-year-old right-hander, who proved the Big Guy in the stretch run. The Dodger skipper, given little chance to enjoy his second consecutive World Series pennant, has doubted whether Sal could get the job done after only three days rest.

Maglie is logical choice "Maglie's logical choice," said Alston, "but he may need more rest. I know he pitched that no-hitter (last Tuesday) with only three days rest, but how can you be sure he can come back again?"

Sal, who has been coming back all season, figured the stiffness might work out of his shoulder in a pre-game warmup, and Alston followed the lead.

"I won't know who starts for us until just before game time," he said.

"And if it isn't Maglie, it might be Carl Erskine, or Roger Craig, or maybe even Clem Labine, I just don't know."

While the hectic closing to the National League race left Alston with a weary pitching staff, Yankee Manager Casey Stengel had no such worries, having clinched the American League flag two weeks ago.

"It's Ford, all right," said Casey as his Yanks worked out at the stadium today.

"Yeah, yeah, I know. They say those guys (the Dodgers) have a picnic with lefthanders over there (in Brooklyn's handbox ballyard). But I can't afford to wait til we get over here, so I gotta go with my best and my best is Ford."

Full Week's Rest Ford, 28, hasn't worked since last Wednesday, when he lost his shot for a 20th victory at Baltimore. That gives him a full week's rest going into the opening game, scheduled for 1 p.m. (EST) in predicted cool and clear weather.

Whitey, however, hasn't won yet in Ebbets Field, although his 3-1 World Series record includes two of the Yankees' three victories over the Brooks last year. In his only start at Ebbets, Whitey lasted just one inning, giving three hits and three runs in the fourth game of the 1955 classic.

The Yankees are 7½ to 5 favorites to win the series, but it's 10 to 1 they won't make it a four-game sweep. It's 15 to 1 the Dodgers, playing the first two games at one, won't sweep.

The Yankees appear healthy for this one, for although they never used it as an alibi, they played the 1955 series with Mickey Mantle, Hank Bauer and other key men hobbled with injuries.

Yankees Are Ready Mantle again isn't perfect in Stengel's mind. And Casey also has a question at second base in Billy Martin, troubled by a bad back, but generally the Yankees are ready.

Mantle, winning hitting's triple crown (batting .353, hitting 52 home runs and knocking in 130 runs), didn't show any signs of his minor groin injury in the workout at the stadium. He spoofed it up, taking it easy in the outfield sun and playing around at shortstop in the bat drill.

Cards Drop Club

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 1 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals announced today they would not operate their Allentown farm in the Class A Eastern League next year.

Italy Net Star Creates Furore

Refuses To Play Sam Giammalva

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Oct. 1 (AP)—Sam Giammalva crushed stringbean Orlando Sirola, 12-10, 6-3, 6-2, today to give the United States a 4-1 rout over Italy in the Davis Cup interzone tennis final at West Side Stadium.

The bowlegged Houston Texas youngster, a third-day substitute after the U.S. had clinched the series with a doubles victory yesterday, played with a vengeance when he learned that the other member of the Italian team, Nicola Pietrangeli, had refused to play him.

In the first of the two superfluous singles matches, the colorful but temperamental Pietrangeli downed 19-year old Mike Green of Miami, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

As a fill-in for Vic Seixas, Giammalva was scheduled to play the first match today against the 23-year-old Pietrangeli, regarded as the best of the Italian forces. But Nicola balked.

"The referee, Don McNeill, came to me and said 'You play Giammalva,'" Pietrangeli said. "I said nobody tells me whom I play. I said I will play Green or nobody."

"I have nothing against Giammalva, personally. I have never played him in my life. But I didn't want anybody telling me what I had to do."

Giammalva was disturbed by reports that the Italian ace had refused to meet him on the court and sought out U.S. officials for an explanation.

U.S. officials explained that they accepted to Pietrangeli's request to avoid an international tennis incident.

Clear Weather For World Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Cool and clear weather was predicted today for the opening game of the World Series at Brooklyn's Ebbets Field on Wednesday.

The official U.S. forecast said scattered showers were likely Wednesday morning but that the weather would clear in the afternoon. Game time is 12 noon (EST). The forecast through the coming Saturday indicated the same seasonal cool, clear weather but with showers on both Wednesday and Thursday morning.

Buys $17,640 Colt

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 1 (AP)—John DeBouis Wack of Santa Barbara, Calif., paid $17,640 today for a Tantiem colt at the Newmarket yearling sales.

Losers in the bidding for the colt, who is out of Valasqua, was Sir Gordon Richards, the knighted jockey who now is one of Britain's biggest trainers.

Major League Players Elect New Officers

Bob Feller Is Named Group's President

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Major league player representatives today formalized the recently organized Major League Baseball Players Assn. by electing officers.

Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians, was named president with Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, vice-president, and Jerry Coleman, of the New York Yankees, secretary.

J. Norman Lewis, attorney for the player representatives, said the association had been formed several months ago. He said that current active major league players were eligible to join.

Feller, Musial and Coleman automatically became members of the five-man executive committee. The two other members are Eddie Yost of Washington, and Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick met with the representatives at the invitation of Feller and Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phils. Frick, according to Lewis, answered a variety of questions involving the pension plan and barnstorming.

Lewis said that Frick had advised the players that major league owners had voted a modification in the contract permitting a player to take more than 25 percent cut in salary providing the player wishes to do so and the commissioner agrees.

Lewis said it would have to have the players' approval but he said he thought they would agree. The players discussed the matter but

Walls Is Caught Speeding, Fined

BRAZIL, Ind., Oct. 1 (AP)—Ray Walls, the Pittsburgh Pirates left-fielder whose home run and triple failed to stop Brooklyn Sunday, was stopped by State Trooper F. L. Hamilton today for speeding.

Walls admitted he was driving 36 miles an hour, 15 miles over Indiana's speed limit, on U.S. 40 east of Brazil because he was "in a rush to get home" to Los Angeles. He paid the $15.25 fine and costs assessed by Justice of the Peace George Reitenberg.

took no immediate action. In the past this could not be done. Late in 1954, Ralph Kiner of the Cleveland Indians agreed to a salary slash of more than 25 percent but Frick and the player representatives refused to permit it.

Colts Release Back, Obtain Another

BALTIMORE, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts of the National Football League today placed defensive halfback Jim Harness on waivers and announced defensive halfback Tommy James has been obtained from the Cleveland Browns, also on waivers.

Harness, a rookie from Mississippi State, played briefly in yesterday's 28-21 victory over the Chicago Bears. James played with the Browns for nine years.

City Urged To Use Federal Fund For Street Projects

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz said yesterday he believed the city should make some effort to match funds available under the federal urban aid program in view of bad conditions on certain streets and needed changes in others.

Buchholtz, in a statement at the meeting of the Mayor and Council, noted a State Roads Commission report that $109,393 is available to Cumberland for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1957.

Mentioned in particular by the commissioner were Mechanic and Centre Streets, widening of Baltimore Avenue and others to provide more parking facilities and a freer flow of traffic.

The city street department would like to undertake these projects but does not have the money.

"Here's a chance to do it for half price and help solve our problems," he said.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan pointed out that in order to be eligible, the city would have to have a particular project planned. Buchholtz replied he has plans on file.

Finan added that in view of the funds available, the highway department of the SRC might view the George Street cutoff project favorably. Buchholtz pointed out, however, there is still about $75,000 in the urban development bond issue and that between $100,000 and $116,000 will be coming back to the city from paving liens along Frederick Street, intimating, without actually saying so, that these amounts should pay for the George Street project.

He urged that the city look into ways and means of matching the funds available from the federal program during this fiscal year.

Council acted on a number of routine orders including:

Approval of the following as twirling instructors effective September 22 in the Recreation Department on a seasonal basis: Patricia Harper, Betty Broadstock, Sandra Reuschel, Donna Innes, Xina Manges, Carol Parker, Linda Proudfoot, Joy Laber, Barbara Weaver, Doris Kasecamp, Shelia Fram, Frances Harvey, Sandra Long, Carol Long, Brenda Miller, all at $1 a session, and Dorothy Heavener as twirling supervisor at $1.50 a session.

Checks were ordered issued to city employees yesterday for the last two weeks of September.

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards was authorized to advertise for bids for a two door sedan to be used by his department.

Payment of $6,675 was authorized to Robert T. Register, consulting engineer, for advisory supervision and inspection of the sewage treatment plant.

The Fire Department was granted permission to string a banner at Baltimore and Centre Streets in connection with Fire Prevention Week, October 7-13.

Playlot Plans Improvement

The Cresaptown Community Council met recently and discussed plans for the improvement of playground equipment.

John Yoder, president, presided and appointed Dale Broadwater to serve as chairman of the committee to study the playground needs. Miss Myra Nefflen, Glenn Hanna, Joseph Wenrick and Yoder will serve on the committee.

The group was given permission to furnish and install two sets of baskets for basketball on the playlot.

Yoder said the Potomac Valley Lions Club will install pipe for the baskets and backboards.

Joseph Wenrick, chairman of the council's Outdoor Festival, gave a report on the event. Charles Wendt, treasurer, reported a net profit of $1,033.34.

The Cresaptown Homemakers Club and the Dapper Dan committee agreed to supply chaparrones for the next two months for the Cresap Teen Club dances.

A nominating committee was named to select a slate of officers to be elected at a meeting November 16. The committee includes Lester Sherman, chairman; Mrs. Catherine Sindy and Gilbert Keister.

Sixteen organizations were represented at the meeting.

We wish to thank all of our kind friends, neighbors, pallbearers, Rev. In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son, husband and father, Edwin M. Reed, who passed away 2 years ago, Oct. 1, 1954.

October brings sadness of a loved one gone to rest.

He will never be forgotten.

By those who he loved the best.

We often look at his picture smiling and he seems to say,

"Don't grieve, I'm only sleeping."

Will see you all some day.

C & P Phone Operators To Strike Today

Company Plans To Maintain Service

BALTIMORE, Oct. 1 (AP)—The president of Maryland Telephone Traffic Unions said late today the union's 3,700 women operators will go on strike tomorrow.

Mrs. Margaret Weiss, union president, said negotiations with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. broke down over the wage issue.

She did not say at what hour the strike would start.

The present contract between the company and union expires at midnight.

Mrs. Weiss said the one issue is a union demand for a weekly $4.50 increase for all operators. Top salaries now range from $63 in Baltimore to $52 on the Eastern Shore.

Prepared For Strike

Operators in the Hyattsville-Silver Spring area are not involved. They are represented by a union in Washington.

The company said it has prepared for a strike.

"We've given all management people assignments to operate switchboard," a spokesman said. "I don't think there will be any real interruption to service if they (the operators) do go out."

He said this is because 82 per cent of the Maryland telephone service is dial.

A representative of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service is attending the negotiations which started Aug. 6.

Plans Made Here

A spokesman for the local office said yesterday preparations were being made in the event of a walkout. Management personnel has been given switchboard assignments and will be able to handle the flow of traffic for a limited amount of time.

The spokesman pointed out that under the new dial system employed in Cumberland the company is in much better shape in the event of a strike than under the old manual system.

Heavy Absentee Vote Forecast

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 1 (AP)—A heavy absentee vote by Maryland servicemen is indicated for the Nov. 6 general elections from returns flowing into the secretary of state's office here.

More than 500 ballots had been received today, and Administrative Assistant James P. Brock described the volume as unusually heavy for this stage of the campaign.

A total of 7,766 were counted in the 1952 presidential election, but the biggest volume normally comes right before election.

In addition to the heavy return of early votes, Brock said the office has been receiving between 50 and 60 applications from servicemen each day for absentee ballots.

These requests are referred to local election boards for forwarding of ballots. The sealed ballots are returned here to be held until election day when they're turned over to local officials and counted with other returns.

Fire Destroys Vacant House In Dutch Hollow

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a two-story, five-room frame house in the Dutch Hollow area about two miles from Mt. Savage late last night.

Firemen from the volunteer company at Mt. Savage responded and used their pumper to draw water from a nearby creek. The fire had made such progress that they could do little but confine the flames to the structure.

Firemen and residents said the house was unoccupied and had not been tenanted for sometime. Firemen who could be contacted at a late hour said they did not know the name of the owner or the identity of the last tenant. They also declined to place an estimate of damage or cause of the flames.

SS. Peter And Paul Will Sponsor Cana Conference

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Louis Miltenberger, pastor of St. Martin's Church, Washington, D. C. and Archdiocesan Director of Cana Conferences, will be here this evening at 8 o'clock to conduct a Cana Conference at SS. Peter and Paul Parish Hall.

This is the second conference to be held in Cumberland. The first having been held last year on December 8. All married couples are invited to attend.

The Cana Conference is conducted to help married couples strengthen their family life, making their married life happier and their homes holier.

The main theme of the conference this evening will be "Justice in the Home" and "Teaching of Purity in the Home." Refreshments will be served after the talks with the Cana Helmsletter.

Will Be Dedicated

On Wednesday, October 10, the new barracks of the State Police located three miles west of Cumberland on U. S. Route 40 will be formally dedicated. Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin will give the dedicatory address during the program slated to begin at 2 p. m. Other state and local officials will be in attendance. Scheduled that same day is an inspection of the new building.

Grand Jurors Hear 13 As Term Opens

Judge Harris Delivers Charge

When the October grand jury convened yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court some 13 persons were called upon to testify.

In his charge to the jury, Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris called attention to the dumping of trash or refuse along public highways.

He also suggested that the jurors look into the law providing for the naming of an inspector or inspector of weights and measures.

The jurors were excused about 3:30 p. m. yesterday and will convene this morning to hear additional witnesses.

Concerning the dumping of trash Judge Harris had this to say:

"In my charge to the grand jury at the April term, 1955, I stated that the law forbidding the dumping of trash, junk or refuse along the public highways has been openly, flagrantly and continuously violated in this county. In that charge, a copy of which will be furnished your foreman, I listed the location of 27 such public trash dumps.

"Since my charge, so far as I know, there has been only one arrest for violation of this law. May I suggest that you call before your body the county roads engineer and the proper representative of the Health Department to inquire about the present condition of these trash dumps, and that you elicit from the law-enforcement officers that come before your body what effort they have made to correct the situation."

Claims Law Ignored

In relation to the weights and measures matter he stated:

"In addition to purely procedural matters, I believe it is a good practice to discuss certain problems and conditions that arise from time to time with the grand jury and through them with the general public.

"Under Article 97 of the Code, Sections 13 and 17, there is authority for the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland and the County Commissioners of Allegany County, either jointly or severally, to appoint a sealer or inspector of weights and measures.

"It would be the duty of such appointive officer to protect the public from unscrupulous, avaricious and perfidious vendors who give short weights and measures. It would also protect the honest business man from unfair competition. The duties and procedure of the inspector are spelled out in the Code."

LaVale Police Barracks Dedication Set Oct. 10

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin will be the guest speaker at the dedication program October 10 of the recently completed State Police Barracks on U.S. Route 40 at Allegany Grove.

The program is scheduled to get under way at 2 p. m. with an inspection tour and "open house" also planned that afternoon.

In the tentative plans, invocation will be given by Rev. Dr. Howard M. Amoss of the Centre Street Methodist Church, after which Col. Elmer F. Munshower, superintendent of the State Police, will deliver the address of welcome.

Ira H. Vandegrift, contractor for the building, will make a few remarks befitting the occasion and then James O'Toole, director of the Department of Public Works, will present the barracks to Colonel Munshower.

Mayor Roy W. Eves will deliver the community response, after which remarks will be made by U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall and Chief Judge George Henderson of the Fourth Judicial Circuit.

Governor McKeldin then will deliver the dedicatory address. Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Lawrence Kennedy, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, will close the formal ceremonies with the benediction.

The barracks will then hold "open house" as it is hoped that many persons will avail themselves of this opportunity to visit and get acquainted.

The old barracks located in LaVale was in use for some 30 years. It is now the LaVale Public Library.

Judge Henderson Sits In Annapolis On Appeals Court

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 1 (AP)—Judge George Henderson of Cumberland, chief judge of Maryland's Fourth Judicial Circuit, will sit on the Court of Appeals this week and next as a temporary replacement for Judge Edward S. Delaplaine of Frederick.

Judge Delaplaine retired today as the high court began a new term. Judge Frederick W. Brune, chief judge of the Court of Appeals, designated Judge Henderson to fill the vacancy until Oct. 12.

On Friday the State Bar Assn. forwarded to Gov. McKeldin a list of seven persons it considered "well-qualified" as a successor to Judge Delaplaine.

Atty. Gen. Ferdinand C. Sybert, one of the seven, has asked that his name be removed from consideration.

The governor, who is not bound by the recommendations of the bar association, has not indicated when he will make the appointment.

Bloodmobile Collects 126 Pints Here

Frostburg Visit Scheduled Today

Despite a local wave of colds and virus infections which resulted in a number of cancellations and 21 rejections at the blood collection center yesterday, Cumberlanders contributed a total of 126 pints of blood toward their quota of 150 per month.

There were 137 persons keeping appointments, 10 volunteer walkers and 23 first time donors. Physicians on duty yesterday included Dr. Royce Hodges, Dr. Benedict Skitaric and Dr. Richard Williams.

Six persons became Two Gallon Club members and five were admitted to the Gallon Club.

Two Gallon donors include Dr. W. Royce Hodges, Braddock Road; John T. Lloyd, Vocke Road; Nelson B. Brant, Ridgeley; Garland Cooper, Burlington, W. Va.; William H. Close, 415 Beall Street; and Waldo B. Harshberger, LaVale.

Gallon donors include Mrs. Alvin J. Paul, 231 Henderson Avenue; Francis T. Evans, LaVale Court; Ernest T. Abernathy, Valley Road; Charles E. Stutzman, Potomac Park; and Walter Cecil, Cresaptown.

The bloodmobile will be at Frostburg this afternoon from noon until 6 p. m. with the collection center in the American Legion home, Main Street. Mrs. Diana Meehan, chairman of the Community Blood Bank at Frostburg pointed out last night that Frostburg has a quota of 150 pints, and all persons who have made appointments are urged to keep them. A substantial number of first time donors and volunteer walkers will also be needed in Frostburg if quota is to be met.

The next Cumberland visit of the bloodmobile from Johnstown will be on November 5. Red Cross sponsors said.

Health Department sanitarians in August made 502 field trips while working on various projects designed to improve the sanitation of this county.

A milk survey of the Cumberland milkshed was also completed, and plants and producers who were inspected during the survey were notified of their ratings. Visits made by the sanitarians included 133 trips on sewage problems, 50 to food establishments, 104 to dairy farms and 11 to post "No Dumping" signs. The work also included 19 percolation tests, to make sure that soil conditions were suitable for septic tank installations.

The report by J. B. Dowling noted the installation of 76 new septic tanks, improvements in one water supply, building of a new dairy barn and milk house, and the elimination of two dumps.

Glass Plant Opens Fund Drive Today

Classified Division Will Meet Tonight

Works No. 7 of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company will open its part in the Cumberland Community Chest Campaign today.

The plant campaign will get under way at 9 a. m., when leaders of the drive will begin asking the some 250 employees of the plant to help maintain the work of Cumberland's nine Red Feather agencies.

Robert Esle, director of employment, will serve as chairman of the plant fund campaign.

Will Head Drive

Captains in the drive will be John White, superintendent of production; William A. Cook, chief accountant; Walter Dyck, acting superintendent of the tank department; Harry Drury, plant engineer; Karl Hartig, general yard foreman; and William J. Lawrence, director of industrial relations.

Each department at the plant has a quota to meet, and it is anticipated the company drive will be completed by October 9, when the general campaign begins.

In a letter to all employees, R. M. Hainsfurther, plant manager, yesterday said he felt it is the responsibility of every employee of Works No. 7 to assume his share of civic responsibilities.

"This is one way," he pointed out, "in which we can help to improve the welfare of our community and its citizens."

Hainsfurther said it has been the policy of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company to have all its plants support this United Charity in their particular locality and that "We will participate in and support the Community Chest in Cumberland."

Meeting Set Tonight

"It is felt," Hainsfurther advised, "that the payroll deduction plan offers an easier way for employees to contribute to the Chest."

Plans for the drive were completed Saturday morning at a meeting in Hainsfurther's office. Scheduled tonight is a meeting of majors, captains and workers of the Classified Division.

The meeting will be held in Central YMCA, and company chairmen have been invited to attend.

The meeting will be in charge of Edward L. Ewald and W. D. Pealer, co-chairmen of the division.

Lonaconing To Vote On Bond Issue

Getty Instructed To Prepare Plans

The Lonaconing Mayor and City Council last night directed City Attorney James S. Getty to arrange for a special election at which the people of Lonaconing will vote on a bond issue for funds for construction of a building for the Tach-Fast Company there.

Robert Steele appeared before the council requesting the road from his home to Scotch Hill Road be repaired. He also complained to the council about trucks parking in front of his driveway and blocking it.

The road complaint was referred to the Street Commissioner and the parking question given to the Police Chief.

City Clerk, Robert B. Thomas was directed to issue a check for $5,000 part payment on a note to the Liberty Trust Company.

Thomas was also directed to notify the C&P Telephone Company that a curb had fallen away from a telephone pole on Main Street.

Getty reported he had contacted an agent of the J. T. Miller estate concerning the acquisition of property near Main Street for the purpose of establishing a parking lot. The agent said the estate would enter an agreement with the city if it would do the construction work.

DONALD R. ANDERSON

Fort Hill Grad Is Honor Man

Donald Richard Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Anderson, Mexico Farms, was presented as honor man of his recruit company upon completion of his basic training at the US Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, last week.

According to Chief Louis W. Knott, local Navy recruiter, Donald served as chief petty officer of his recruit company and was selected honor man for the "superior aptitude" demonstrated by him throughout his training, plus his sportsmanship, citizenship, fellowship, loyalty and attention to duty.

Anderson is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, class of 1955, and is a former student at the University of Maryland. He will spend 14 days with his parents before reporting to Bainbridge for duty at the US Naval Hospital Corps School there.

Registration At LaVale Is Dead Heat

A dead heat featured yesterday's registration activity at the LaVale Fire Hall where 16 Republicans and a like number of Democrats were counted among the 32 new registrants.

Today Miss Bessie M. Baird and John J. Zapf, deputy registrars for the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, will sit at the employment office of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory at Pinto from 9 a. m. until noon and at Armstrong's store in Rawlings from 2 until 5 p. m.

Tomorrow they will be at the Bedford Road Fire Hall from 1 until 4 p. m. and at the Baltimore Pike Fire Hall from 6 until 9 p. m. There also will be simultaneous registration at the City halls in Lonaconing, Frostburg, Westernport and the Mt. Savage community building from 1 to 5 p. m. and 6 to 8 p. m. tomorrow, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The board's office in the Court House basement will be open from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. today for registration.

Yesterday's 16 new Republicans included eight men and eight women. However, 13 of the 16 new Democrats are women. One of the women is a resident of Pinto, which lies in Election District No. 7.

Radar Catches 19 Hill Speeders On Braddock Rd.

Some 19 local and area motorists learned yesterday that it doesn't pay to exceed the speed limit when radar is in operation.

In the continuing drive against speeding in the city, police officers yesterday arrested the motorists who exceeded the 25-mile-an-hour limit on Braddock Road.

Manning the radar equipment were Louis Downey and Donald L. Buser.

Bazar Is Planned

SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church will hold its annual parish bazar on Tuesday, October 30. The event was originally scheduled for the week of October 31.

Man Killed As B&O Wreck Blocks Tracks

Part Of East-Bound Freight Is Derailed

A man identified as Roy Eugene Ames, 22, of Eureka Springs, Ark., was killed last night when part of an east-bound Baltimore and Ohio Railroad freight train was derailed, blocking traffic on the main line, according to West Virginia State Police at Berkeley Springs.

B&O sources here said Ames undoubtedly was a trespasser as he had no authority to be riding in a car loaded with steel in which he died. The steel shifted in the crash and Ames was crushed under the steel. No cause for the accident had been determined late last night.

Early reports indicated that about 18 cars of General Motors Train No. 396 left the tracks just east of Hancock about 8 p. m.

No report of injuries was received here.

The derailed cars blocked all three main tracks of the railroad, and officials immediately rerouted passenger Trains No. 1 and 12 and freight trains over Western Maryland tracks from North Branch to Miller.

Relief trains were dispatched from here and Brunswick to speed the work of getting traffic under way again.

The B & O runs along the West Virginia side of the Potomac River in the Hancock area.

Discussion Set On FHA Lending Authority Here

Will Be Held At Court House

Broadened lending authorities in the Farmers Home Administration program will be discussed during a meeting of agricultural leaders and sources of agricultural credit of Allegany County. It will be held on Thursday at 2 p. m. in the office of County Agent Joseph M. Steger at the Court House.
